

Group choice

The “Group choice” activity is required if students are to select themselves into Moodle groups.

Moodle groups can be used, for example, to display materials only for certain students. Or groups can discuss among themselves in the forum. Or tasks can be submitted as a group. In activities, user contributions can be filtered by group membership.

Find more on groups in the topic “Groups”.

Set up “Group choice”

Note: First create the “Groups”. Then add the “Group choice”.

1. Turn on “Edit mode” and click on “Add an activity or resource”.
2. Select “Group choice” from the list.
3. Fill out the form.
4. In the Groups area, select all groups that should be available for students to choose from (multiple selection by holding down the “Ctrl” key).
5. Confirm with “Save and return to course”.

Note:

“Group choice” is “first come, first served”!

If students should be able to vote in peace or state certain preferences, then the procedure “Fair Allocation” is more suitable.
