

Roles in moodle

In moodle at Jade HS, □ users are assigned different roles - depending on their function and context.

- Teacher: Teachers are given writing rights in their course rooms. They can create, change and delete materials and activities. They can enrol other participants in the course room or sign them out. They evaluate activities. Staff members can also receive write access or the role „Teacher“. Teachers also have the right to view personal data in Moodle. The role is assigned by managers and administrators.
- Student: Students can access their course rooms with the role „Student“. They can view and download materials. They use the activities offered, submit work results and view their assessments received.
- Studentische Hilfskraft: Students with this role perform auxiliary activities in the course room. They can create, change and delete materials and activities. They cannot give grades. This role can be assigned with the role „Teacher“.
- Student Tutor: This role is the student version of „Teacher“. Students can organize and edit courses and grade assignments and submissions. Users with this role cannot view personal data or export personal data. This role can be assigned with the role „Teacher“.
- Manager: At the level of course areas, e.g. for departments or degree programmes, there is the role „Manager“. These persons carry out administrative work in their area: Creating, moving or deleting courses. They can also take over the registration and de-registration of „Teachers“ and „Students“, among others.
